Fright Night
Haunted Hayride at Cervelli's Farm - Come If You Dare!

It's a crisp autumn night and the howling wind rustles the leaves around you. There's an unmistakable chill in the air as you take a seat on the Haunted Hayride in Rochester. The tall stalks of corn at Cervelli's Farm on Vaughan Hill Road remind you of an eerie scene from the movie "Children of the Corn."

Youre breathing gets a bit irregular. The people around you appear to be terrified. A tractor slowly pulls you through the darkness, as you wonder what creatures are lurking about. Are they shadows? Are they real?

You travel through a field of corn where even the crows seem to be scared. Why does it seem that one of the scarecrows in the field is staring right at you?

As you pass by a graveyard you notice not everyone seems to be dead. Witches and wolves curse and claw you as you let out a scream of fright. Dracula lies in a casket, but will he stay there? You don't want to stay to find out.

You wonder if there is any way to escape the demons around you. Suddenly, the "Good Doctor" approaches you. He looks half-crazed and medically deranged It seems he is in need of a head or a helping hand. Don't look now, he's coming after you.

During the ride, beware the water is not fit to drink. The pond seems to be still with fright. (SCREAM) You are wrong. You are dead wrong. You can't get out now. The pumpkin patch in no place to get out and wander. The gory scene at the operating room will keep you away from visiting the doctor's office for a very long time.

Who knows what spirits will be contacted in the ouija room. You don't feel like "hanging around" to find out.

You are halfway through now. Is there a madman, a hangman or ghost to find?You don't want to know. The end is near. Will you be chopped down?

You don't think your heart can take much more of this. There seems to be somebody missing on the hayride. You start to panic.

Finally, you've made it to the end of this frightening ride. There's a "monster mash" going on You are still alive, miraculously. You are sure to warn others that you'll be having nightmares for a very long time. You will not forget all the horror and gore as soon as you would like to.

Be sure to come for a night of terror, brought to you by the Rochester Lion's Club on October 20th, 21st, 27th, 28th and 29th. The hayride starts at 6:00 pm and the last ride leaves at 10:00 pm each night. Look to the classified ad section of the Wanderer for a money saving ad. You can save 50 cents if you bring the ad with you to the ride.

Hot and cold drinks will be available. Rides are $5.50 for adults; children under 5 can ride for free. Last year the ride brought in about $5,000 for the Lion's Club, a charitable organization that donates its profits to eye research. Steve Bernier who helped organize the hayride said there are lots of surprises in store. We here at the Wanderer don't want to let the "black cats out of the bag," so to speak. All we can say is there are six more displays than last year. Even those who say they don't scare easily are sure to have a ghostly good time. Last year, when a man first got on the ride, he bragged he wasn't scared. Boy was he in for a surprise. He admitted later, "You got me, " Mr. Bernier said.

"It worked out spectacular last year," Mr. Bernier said. "Last year was the first year, we were quite impressed." He said he hopes this year will be even better. So, mark your calendars for a ride you won't want to miss.

On the cover: Beware of bumping into frightening creatures like these at the "Haunted Hayride," on Cervelli's Farm in Rochester, off Route 105 on October 20, 21, 27, 28 and 29. The ride is brought to you by the Rochester Lion's Club.

Chairman Albert E. Winters had a family commitment and was unable to attend.

The Board met with the chairman of the Elderly Housing Committee, the Reverend Mr. Robert E. Duebber. He said that "all apartments at Little Neck are filled" and the occupants "seem very happy." The committee has revised their applications and yearly renewal forms. There are now three buildings with 12 apartments. "There is a growing need for housing," Mr. Duebber said. There are presently 28 applicants on the waiting list. Mr. Duebber commented that most people don't know that they have to apply early, and added, "It can take years." The committee would like to look into building eight more units and a community room for family gatherings; an idea which has been approved by the Conservation Commission. Mr. Duebber stated that he would like to see an architectural study, estimated to cost approximately $10,000, to take place sometime next year. "The need is there," he said.

Correspondence for the week included a revised memo from Roger Walen of the Marine Resources Commission concerning family shellfish regulation changes. These changes prohibit people from selling, for money or other consideration any shellfish taken under a Family Permit. Areas where the use of shovels, other garden tools and commercial digging equipment is prohibited will be marked with orange signs. "Kittansett Point (odd years) and Converse Point (even years) will alternate on a yearly basis for Family Permit clamming - seven days a week, year 'round." The board agreed to adopt the revised changes.

East Coast Engineering reported on their review of the Stoney Run and Edgewater Drive sewer project. They checked the unit prices and references of C.J.P. and Sons Construction Company, the lowest bidder. "All references spoke highly of C.J.P. and said that they did excellent work, were fast and would recommend them for work again." The board followed the firm's recommendation to award the contract to C.J.P. and Sons.

School. She also told them there is no "free cash" available for articles on the warrant. However, she said she checked with the assessor's and there is $30,400 that has been raised and appropriated for the articles. She stressed that nothing has been transferred from free cash. "This doesn't affect the tax rate or anything," Ms. Ryan said.

Selectmen approved a request from the Board of Health to increase the revolving account for the compost bin grant to $2,000. This doesn't involve any increase in the Board of Health's budget, they said.

Selectman Hawkes next read a letter from the Rochester Police Department about a new police facility. The letter states the present housing of the police department is inadequate and allows several health and safety hazards. "The present facility has no holding cell or bathroom for prisoners, causing a major safety and health concern for the officers, prisoners, and general public. The Rochester Police Department would like to make you aware of the many health and safety problems associated with our trailer that we are currently forced to work out of. "Our prison is not prisoner ready, the law states the Police Department is responsible for the safety of a prisoner. Our bathroom allows a prisoner ample opportunity to find the means to kill him/herself. If this would occur, it would only be neglect on the Police Department's behalf."

Another problem they have faced is traveling to Wareham to transport violent prisoners. "This leaves the town of Rochester uncovered and also costs the town $50 a day for the Wareham Police Department to hold him." They asked for a suggestion or comment from Selectmen. Selectman Hawkes noted plans for a facilty have been given to the Building Needs Committee . Selectman Hughes suggested sending a letter to the department to notify them the Committee is reviewing the plans.

In other correspondence, Mr. Matt Ayers sent a letter to Selectmen complaining about unrestrained dogs chasing him during bike riding activities on Walnut Plain Road. He said the dogs have been observed at three separate residents on Walnut Plain Road. Mr. Ayers requested the owner's take all necessary means to restrain their respective animals in compliance with the state restraint regulations. Selectman Hughes noted that one of the dog owners has already received a notice to keep their dog restrained. Two other neighbors will receive a letter asking them to please keep their dogs restrained on their property as well. "This isn't an official notice, but if it comes up again it will be," Selectman Hughes said.

Selectman also received a request from Ms. Barbara Sullivan, to name the intersection of Walnut Plain Road and High Street Varella Square, after one of the first Cape Verdean families in Rochester. Records at the Town Hall indicate the earliest date of property ownership by Ben Varella in Rochester is 1913. "However, we know that the property was also owned possibly prior to 1913, at what is currently called Old Schoolhouse Road...As my family and I have observed the changed in the town over the last 25 years, we have been increasingly aware of the lack of permanent landmarks that provide evidence of our ancestors contribution to the town. Varella descendents continue to make up the largest contingent of Cape Verdeans in town. Exploring our roots in Rochester and some of the relationships that were formed between the Varella's and other residents has been fascinating to us," she wrote in the letter. Selectmen Hughes said he supported the idea, but suggested calling it Varella Corner instead of Varella Square to keep in relationship to other landmarks in town. They will vote when the full Board is present at next week's meeting.

Selectmen Hughes also wished to thank Stephen Frenette who did an excellent job in the SEMASS Road Race. "Tell him to stay in shape, because we need him next year," he said jokingly. The Board then met as a Personnel Board to note the training period for a new communications center dispatcher was up. There being no further business before the Board, the meeting adjourned at 7:20 pm.

HIRING A HOUSE INSPECTOR

Naturally you will carefully inspect any home you intend to purchase as best you can. However, if you are not a building expert and you have some serious questions about the house's structure and systems, it makes sense to hire an independent house inspector to do a professional job. If this is your case, here are a few pointers.

Home inspectors are supposed to work FOR the buyer. The real estate agent is not the inspection expert and he or she will be the first to tell you. Hire a house inspector who is totally impartial. That means someone who simply inspects the house and submits the findings but does nothing whatsoever to correct any fault he may find. In that way, the inspector will not be motivated to "discover" a lot of extra faults as a means toward finding repair work.

The inspector should be knowledgeable enough to give approximate costs of repairs as a guide so the client can make an informed decision on the house.

Call BRUCE today with any of your Real Estate questions or needs, we're here to help!! 758-6738.

League of Women Voters

The question of whether teachers and courses, especially in math and science, are as accessible, supportive and challenging for girls as they are for boys has been getting more attention recently. According to "How Schools Shortchange Girls," a 1992 report of the American Association of University Women, girls generally become less confident in early adolescence and fall short of the academic promise they showed in grade school. Data compiled by the Wellesley College Center for Research for Women from over 1300 studies indicate that schools often unintentionally discourage female students from tackling high-level courses, especially in traditionally "male" subject areas like physics and calculus. Since it seems certain that the future economic health of the U.S. will depend on our workers' ability to compete in a world-wide high tech marketplace, anything that shortchanges girls will eventually shortchange America.

How are our regional schools dealing with this issue? How do the staffs of ORR Junior High School and Senior High School help our daughters to realize math and science are areas where they too can excel? The League of Women Voters of Marion-Mattapoisett-Rochester will sponsor a public meeting on Wednesday, October 18th at 7:30 pm in the Marion Natural Museum. Featured speakers will be Dr. Eileen Marland, Counselor at Old Rochester Regional Junior High School and Mrs. Susan Zartman, Counselor at ORR Senior High School. Dr. Marland will discuss local and regional strategies and special projects for encouraging gender equity in schools. Mrs. Zartman's focus will be on efforts at ORRHS to establish and maintain a school environment that encourages young women to seek academic excellence. The Museum is on the second floor of the Elizabeth Taber Library at 8 Spring Street in Marion. The building has an elevator and the second floor is accessible to those with limited mobility.

announced plans to revise and reissue the League's well-regarded "Know Your Schools," a concise but complete factual guide to Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester public schools from Kindergarten to Grade 12. The information ranges from data on state and local funding to curriculum, extracurricular activities, graduation requirements and more. "The Education Reform Act of 1993 is just one of the factors making the earlier editions obsolete," said local LWV Education Chair Kay Reis. "Members of the Tri-Town League of Women Voters hope that new residents and other interested citizens will help with the research and writing of the new edition. It's basic Hunter Education Course at the Sippican Rod and Gun Club, Dexter Lane, Rochester. This course is free to the general public. Registration will be held during the first class. Instruction will take place on October 23, 25, 27 and 30 and also on November 1st and 3rd. Students must attend every session. Classes will run from 7:00 pm through 10:00 pm. Adults, as well as younger men and women, are encouraged to attend. A Massachusetts Hunter Education Certificate is provided to course graduates 15 years and older. Youngsters aged 10-14 may participate and receive a letter of completion to meet out-of-state licensing requirments. Parental permission is required of all students under 18 years of age. Each year volunteer instructors and Massachusetts Environmental Police hold over 100 hunter education courses throughout the state. First, the card allows young men and women between the ages of 15 and 17-years-old to hunt alone on their first Massachusetts hunting license. Secondly, the certificate is frequently necessary for minors to purchase a hunting license from other states and Canadian provinces. All states in the northeast have such requirements except for Massachusetts. Many experienced hunters participate to qualify for out-of-state licenses. For additional information on courses write to Hunter Education, P.O. Box 408, Westminister, MA 01473-0408 or call the bureau office at (508) 792-7434.

We are reaching out to parents of first, second and third graders though Jump Start to remind them that helping their children to develop good reading skills is one of the most important contributions they can make to their educational future. Studies show that children who love reading early really do have a jump start on success in school and life. Children in second and third grades will be visiting the public library in October to get an official library card in the child's name and return their sweepstakes entry forms. Children in first grade will also participate in the program through the Center School Library. In addition to the college grant, prizes include Macintosh Performa computers, World Book Encyclopedia sets, and Childcraft sets. Lightships are an important part of America's maritime heritage and are rare. There are fewer than 20 left in existence today. To find two lightships in a single port on the same day is extremely unusual. In the Summer of 1995, the busy port of New Bedford, Massachusetts welcomed the Nantucket Lightship as a good will ambassador celebrating the city's Cape Verdean connection to the history of lightships. Most of the men who lost their lives in the tragic sinking of an earlier Nantucket Lightship were from the Cape Verde Islands. The lightship sunk after being rammed by the SS Olympic, the sister ship of the Titanic, in 1934. The Nantucket tied up on the North face of State Pier immediately astern of the New Bedford Lightship. At 155 feet, the Nantucket is the longest lightship ever built and the similarities between the two vessels was striking. Fully restored, the Nantucket Lightship is on permanent display at the Intrepid Sea, Air and Space Museum in New York City.

The New Bedford Lightship was hauled less than five years ago and had extensive hull repair work done. While in port, Senior Curator of the Interpid Museum, Jerry Roberts, inspected the interior of the New Bedford Lightship with his first mate and found all of the below deck areas to be in remarkably good condition. He noted that the vessel was in need of a thorough airing out and cleaning because of years of inactivity. Mr. Roberts noted that the most important first step in restoration of the New Bedford Vessel would be to concentrate on an extensive program of chipping and painting of the exterior hardware. The presence of the two historic vessels in the bustling, working seaport was a treat. As a result of the visit, there are new initiatives designed to restart the restoration of the New

Homework Center

Plumb Library's Homework Center will be open again this school year, and the library is looking for people interested in being homework coaches. We will be conducting one-on-one training sessions over the next few weeks. Anyone interested in getting involved in this worthwhile project should contact Lucy at the library during library hours.

The library will be starting a Toy Exchange in the children's section of the library. Kids are invited to bring in their old toys (good condition only please) that they no longer play with. CitriMax™ is an all-natural plant extract rich in (-)hydroxycitric acid (HCA). It is the result of a scientific breakthrough by Dr. John M. Lowenstein at the Department of Biochemistry, Brandeis University. CitriMax comes from a rare tropical fruit grown in the remote jungles of Asia. The fruit is an exotic species of the citrus family called Garcinia. Although a relatively recent discovery of the Western world, it has been harvested and used for centuries by the peoples of Southern Asia as an aid to making meals more "filling."

As public concern grows over the use of drugs, chemical stimulants and artificial ingredients, safe natural alternatives derived from plants have returned to the limelight. A growing number of diet products are now using CitriMax because unlike other diet ingredients, CitriMax isn't a stimulant. Most appetite suppressants work by stimulating the central nervous system, often leading to side effects such as insomnia, nervousness, depression, hypertension and rapid heart rate. The body also tends to develop a tolerance towards stimulants, eventually rendering them ineffective. CitriMax won't result in tolerance or cause the side effects associated with these compounds. In fact, acute toxicity studies show that CitriMax is as safe as the citric acid found in oranges.

The amazing natural properties of CitriMax have been the subject of extensive scientific research reported on over 100 television news programs.

When foods are eaten, carbohydrates are digested and broken down into glucose, the special blood sugar the body uses for energy. Glucose molecules that are not immediately used for energy are stored in the body's liver and muscles as glycogen. When glycogen stores become full, excess molecules of glucose are converted into fat and cholesterol by an enzyme called ATP-citrate lyase.

CitriMax works by providing HCA, which temporarily inhibits this enzyme. Animal studies have shown that HCA can reduce fatty acid synthesis by approximately 40-70% for eight to twelve hours following a meal.

One study showed that people taking HCA for two months lost an average of 11 pounds and reported fewer cravings for sweets, reduced appetite and increased energy. Research suggests that HCA may increase the body's capacity to store glycogen, thereby enhancing the body's satiety signal to the brain. This suppresses appetite and reduces food intake.

As part of a complete diet plan, CitriMax may help you control appetite and inhibit the production of unwanted fat.
